

2022 – 23 Webinar Programme:

Part of the Innovation, Digital and Transformation Directorate webinar series

To sign up for any of these virtual events please email kfh.england@hee.nhs.uk with your details and which webinar you are interested in. You will then be added to the Teams meeting.

September 2022
Topic	Summary	Presenting	Date and Time
NHS Knowledge for Healthcare – an introduction for trust leadership	“Applying knowledge into action is the currency of a successful healthcare organisation.” Today, knowledge services are an essential part of the decision-making structure of the NHS, as well as of the education and training structure. This insightful 15 minute introduction brings to life the business critical role that knowledge and library specialists, ensuring that decisions made, day by day, draw on the best 360° of evidence available.	Sue Lacey Bryant – Chief Knowledge Officer, HEE talks with Nick Poole , CEO, CILIP	Watch it now 10 mins
BMJ Best Practice for Primary care – get the most out of the national clinical decision making tool	The benefits of BMJ Best Practice to clinicians and trainees in Primary Care. A webinar for place-based practitioners on how to get the most from BMJ Best Practice, in practice, on call and during study.	Kieran Walsh , Clinical Director, BMJ Best Practice.	Wednesday 7 Sept 12:30 – 13:15 30 mins

	You will need your OpenAthens account live in advance – Don't have an account? Register now
Ensuring decisions are underpinned by evidence from research.	Healthcare is a knowledge intensive industry. No wonder the new Health and Care Act sets a legal duty the NHS, and ICBs specifically, to facilitate the use of evidence from research. Helping you fulfil this responsibility, HEE is leading a transformative approach to mobilising knowledge, and placing evidence at the fingertips of clinical and operational NHS staff and learners. A transformative approach that puts evidence at the fingertips of clinical and operational NHS staff as well as students and trainees.	Patrick Mitchell , Director of Innovation, Digital and Transformation, HEE and Sue Lacey Bryant – Chief Knowledge Officer, HEE	23 September: 12.30 -1.30
October 2022
Topic	Summary	Presenting	Date and Time
Give your staff the gift of time.	Find out how working with knowledge and library services gives teams the Gift of Time. Make sure organisation realises their full value, including a cost-benefit of 2.4: 1 for every £1 invested in these business critical services. 30 mins live webinar and Q&A to find out how knowledge specialists save NHS time and money. Interested? Book your place to find out more – and in advance	Sue Lacey Bryant – Chief Knowledge Officer, HEE and Clare Edwards , Deputy Head of Knowledge and Library Services, HEE	Wednesday 5 October 2022 16:00 – 17:15 30 mins Watch now – a short introductory animation.
Applying evidence and resources to address health disparities	To address health disparities, we need to focus on improving health literacy, digital literacy and digital access. In this session you will find out about our newly available maps and online tool	Ruth Carlyle – Head of Knowledge and Library Services, HEE and Sue Robertson , Library and	Thursday 20 October 12:30 – 13.15

	using, place-based geodata to identify levels of health literacy and digital access in your area. The session will also introduce easy read resources for shared decision making, co-produced with experts by experience, and how to use these are part of a series of steps to address local health disparities. 30-minute live webinar and Q&A to introduce you to evidence and tools to inform your approach.	Knowledge Services Development Lead, HEE
November
Topic	Summary	Presenting	Date and Time
Supporting the public with health choices: Easy read guides and health literacy training for all	Changes in the NHS are placing increasing emphasis on the ability of members of the public to participate in shared decision making. This session introduces two guides for healthcare practitioners, carers and third sector colleagues who support people with learning disabilities and autism. These were co-produced with people with lived experience of learning difficulties and autism and will be of value more widely as easy read tools. The session demonstrates borough-level data in health literacy (the ability to access, assess and use health information) and digital access as part of targeting the use of the easy read tools.	Ruth Carlyle – Head of Knowledge and Library Services, HEE and Sue Robertson , Library and Knowledge Services Development Lead, HEE	Wednesday 23 November 12:30 – 13.15